

GOMSTOCK NOT SWIFT ENOUGH.

REAL ESTATE NEWS.

The mysterious tip-off, bird balked his quiet raid on a poolroom.

The Nelson Pleasure Club, an alleged pool and gambling hall located above a saloon on the southwest corner of University place and Thirtieth street, was raided at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Anthony Constock, accompanied by four of his men, and four detectives from the Jefferson Market court sat.

Three men were arrested, one in the poolroom and two in the saloon.

While the fixtures of the place indicated the to which it had been put, little legal evidence was found.

The raiders concluded that the paraphernalia had been taken out through a window, across a very convenient roof, and in through the windows of the next house.

"That negative proof?" Constock said to a reporter, "that this place was in full blast at the time when I obtained the warrant magistrate Zeller, which was less than twenty minutes ago. One of my prisoners was running a roulette wheel in the front room, while another was at the card table. Backs were being received from the railroads and the police were there people. Some one who got out must have been here."

The prisoners, who were taken to the Mercer lockup, their appearance there was not far from what was received by Capt. Chapman that a raid had taken place.

The Nelson Pleasure Club was Lawrence

Grove, 111 East Fourteenth street, Frank

Bernard of South Fifth avenue and Joseph

Bernard of Broadway and Seventeenth street.

GIRLS WITH ORGAN GRINDERS.

Complaint to the Gerry Society That They Are Led Into Immorality.

A member of one of the well-known law firms in the city wrote to Commodore Gerry some time ago, informing him that many organ grinders, who followed them around the streets and executed indecent dances on the sidewalk whenever the organ grinder stopped. A woman was attracted and the impromptu entertainment received the necessary encouragement which the organ grinder desired. Most conspicuous among the girls who devoted themselves to the new industry, the writer said were two pretty girls, about 14 years old, who were very much in evidence.

The girls' appearance corresponded with that description of the children a few years ago, when the organ grinder came at night in street and Broadway and was a few evenings ago. He saw them again yesterday morning and was one of them in a more or less intimate position.

The other girl escaped by running to the pool and jumping from there to the next building a few feet away.

The captured girl was arraigned in the Jefferson Market court. She said that it was Ethel McMorris, 14 years old, of West Ninth street, who was remanded to the Soho holding pending a further investigation.

NO ATTACK ON DR. NAGLE.

Civil Service Reform Association Asks for McVay's Reinstatement.

The McVay Statistical Commission met yesterday on the call of Dr. Nagle, chief of the Bureau, who said he had been asked to call the meeting, but didn't know what for exactly.

George P. H. McVay, the statistician, who was discharged by Dr. Nagle on Monday, was present at the meeting.

Secretary Blaines announced that he had a copy of a letter from the Civil Service Reform Association to Dr. Nagle. After some discussion, it was read, and proved to be a request for the reinstatement of McVay. It was decided to refer the matter to the Corporation Counsel.
